Summer Fun and Now It's Done

Well, it's been a lovely six months since we've been back from overseas. We took some time and relaxed while adjusting to being back in one time zone and then quickly returned to all fun things j&k! We played a show in Nashville which was lots of fun--so many nice people came from near and far--it really meant a lot. Next we did a two day photo shoot which was exhausting and lots of fun all together. Then about a month later we went back to visit the kids at the House of Hope in South Africa--spending time with those kids was awesome. In between flying and photo shooting we've been recording and hope to release something in the next month or two! Yayayya! We are loving Nashville & the beautiful fall weather. xoxo
